QCS Approved Materials List 2026

The enclosed QCS Approved Materials List identifies materials reviewed by QCS for use in organic production in accordance with the USDA National Organic Program that may be used by QCS certified operations as part of an approved organic system plan. Materials are listed under specific categories of use and applicable restrictions are noted. QCS does not endorse or guarantee the effectiveness of any materials on this list or other materials allowed as part of an approved organic system plan.

This list may not show all materials that have been approved for your operation's organic system plan because it does not include custom blends manufactured for individual farms or materials that were reviewed by the Organic Materials Review Institute (OMRI), Washington State Department of Agriculture (WSDA), Pennsylvania Certified Organic (PCO) and the California Department of Agriculture (CDFA). OMRI, WSDA and CDFA maintain electronic lists on their websites. Please contact QCS if you are in need of hard copies of these lists.

Please remember:

- You must contact QCS to add new input materials to your operation's organic system plan prior to use, even if the material appears on this list.
- QCS will send written notice of approval and an updated list of approved inputs specific to your organic system plan when new materials are added.
- All materials used on your organic operation must be part of your organic system plan, follow applicable restrictions and be used only in accordance with the specified use category and label use instructions.
- Please be sure you are using materials exactly as listed by product name and manufacturer, as products with different formulations or manufacturers may appear similar. QCS can help if you are unsure.
- Use of materials not listed on your organic system plan may jeopardize your organic certification.

Please do not hesitate to contact QCS if you have any questions or need to update your organic system plan.
